Why Leave Home?
PORTLAND, Me. (UP)—Fireman Vernon P. Libby used 10 off-duty hours to hunt deer in a wilderness. No luck. He returned home to find a 130-pound black impaled animal, which had wandered into the heavily populated section, failed to clear the fence in a mad dash from pursuing children.

REDBIRDS ELIMINATED FROM TOURNAMENT

City Council Meets Here Last Night

The Murray City Council met last night at 7:00 p.m. with all members present except J. E. Littleton, who is ill.

Routine business was carried out by the council with bills against the city approved for payment.

A. Carman appeared before the council to request permission to erect a sign on 12th street pointing to the Carman Motel. He was referred to the highway department which has jurisdiction over the matter.

Approval was granted for installation of an anhydrous ammonia plant at the end of Poplar Street.

Two new street lights will be erected, one at the end of West Main and the other on Kentucky Avenue.

New meters will be placed in front of the Gibson Frozen Food Locker plant.

Permission was granted by the council for a list of new car license to be copied from the list at the County Court Clerk's office, for use by city police.

An ordinance increasing the water and sewerage rates was passed by the council. The rate will provide adequate water, sewerage, and fire protection for all newly annexed areas, and provide for lift stations for the betterment of the whole system.

The rate increase will be effective as to payment, May 1.

The council, after a lengthy discussion, decided to greatly increase efforts to collect taxes, now delinquent.

Mayor George Hart head off a long list of city property owners who had not paid their last year's taxes. Mayor Hart brought out the point that the city was in great need of the money, and that all delinquent taxes should be paid at once.

A concerted effort will be made also to enforce the city auto sticker ordinance. A relatively few automobile owners in the city purchase the city sticker, it was said. Police will check for violations, and steps taken to correct the situation the council decided.

Top Democrats Press United Attack On GOP Administration

By CHARLES NOLAND
United Press Staff Correspondent

MIAMI BEACH, Mar. 6. (UP)—Top Democrats today pressed a united attack on the Republican administration's "McCarthy issue," which Adlai Stevenson termed a "grave" situation in government.

The Democrat leaders met with some 45 Southern congressmen to discuss the party stand on key national issues in a third sectional rally to launch the 1954 off-year election campaigns.

Stevenson, as their standard bearer, will deliver the keynote address in a sweeping attack on the Republicans in his address at 10:30 p.m. EST tonight at a $100-a-plate dinner.

At a press conference late Friday Stevenson called the feud between President Eisenhower, Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and Army Secretary Robert Stevens "a grave situation" in government.

The 1952 Democratic candidate for president said he would discuss the issue further in his nationally televised CBS-TV and broadcast NBC address before the 12-state rally.

Stevenson and other party leaders indicated their campaign strategy would be to consider the controversy over McCarthy purely a Republican problem warranting no interference from Democrats in Congress.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, Georgia Democrat, and Sen. Lyndon Johnson, Texas, Senate Democratic leader, who will speak on the same program with Stevenson, predicted the Republicans will not be able to make any campaign headway on the issue of Communism in government.

Stevenson told newsmen he felt sure the Army has not coddled the Communists deliberately any more than the previous administration coddled any subversives, traitors or spies deliberately.

McCarthy who is visiting here told reporters he did not know of Stevenson's remarks.

Puerto Ricans To Get Fair Trial

By CHARLOTTE G. MOULTON
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Mar. 6. (UP)—Four Puerto Ricans who poured a barrage of bullets into the House of Representatives Monday were assured today of a fair trial from the government they hate.

Federal Judge James W. Morris told the four at their arraignment Friday he was "determined to see that they have a fair trial, and that their rights are protected" when they go on trial here April 5.

The four pleaded innocent to 10 assault charges placed against them as a result of the fantastic shooting which cut down five congressmen.

Morris outlined through a Spanish interpreter the rights the federal nationalists are guaranteed under the American system of justice. He appointed four well-known Washington attorneys to defend them.

Mrs. Lolita Lebron, petite, 34-year-old ringleader of the band, was the first to enter her plea of innocent. She said "I would like it to be charged that what I committed was the defense of my country." She told Morris in a barely audible voice that a defense attorney was on his way here from New York.

Rafael Cancel Miranda, 25, also pleaded innocent because "I did what I did in defense of my country." The other two defendants, Andres Figueroa Cordero, 28, and Irving Flores Rodriguez, 28—mumbled their innocent pleas.

All were indicted on five charges each of assault with intent to kill and assault with a dangerous weapon. They face a probable maximum penalty of 75 years each in prison.

On request of U.S. Attorney Leo A. Rover, Morris fixed bond at $100,000 each. Referred to the "utter ruthlessness" of their act.

the rally and was surprised to find himself surrounded by Democrats when he flew here on business.

"I certainly did not come down for that," McCarthy said when he arrived Friday night on a plane.

Stevenson said he also would discuss in his address what he called the difference between the Republican administration and the Republican Party, and the handling of foreign affairs by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Stevenson declined to express his view of the prospect of ending the present "recession" before the elections next fall, saying "I'm just a simple politician. I don't know."

Asked if he is considering running for president again in 1956, Stevenson quipped that "at the moment I'm more interested in running for the beach."

Soldier May Be Court Martialed After Investigation

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—An Army officer investigated today to discover whether Claude Batchelor, 23-year old corporal who changed his mind and left a Communist prison camp, should be court martialed.

The Kermit, Tex., soldier was arrested Friday, charged with violating military code Articles 104 and 106—aiding the enemy and activity detrimental to fellow soldiers—and Article 134.

Since charges do not provide that a court martial be automatic, an officer was appointed by the commanding general with court-martial jurisdiction to see whether one is indicated.

In the meantime, Batchelor was held in the stockade at Fort Sam Houston. The Army indicated he will remain there until a decision has been reached.

Batchelor's Japanese wife, whose name was withheld, said she was told he had expected to be arrested "because of a misunderstanding."

She said in Tokyo that Batchelor discussed the possibility he would be arrested before he flew to the United States 10 days ago.

The wife is awaiting a visa for entry into the United States and planned to join her husband at Kermit. But, owing to wait 10 years for him if necessary, she indicated she may remain at home in Tokyo until his case has been cleared up.

Batchelor was arrested at Brooke Army Medical Center where he came for a routine physical examination before going on a 30-day furlough.

Batchelor was one of 23 American POWs who turned Communist under the Chinese Reds. He and the other Cpl. Edward Dickenson of Crackers Neck, Va., changed their minds after the Korean truce and came home.

Dickenson has been charged with the same offenses as Batchelor. The other 21 Americans have disappeared into the interior of China and have been dishonorably discharged.

Smiley Burnett, Who Comes Here Monday May See Old Friend

When Smiley Burnett comes to Murray Monday, he will be able to see an old school mate of his, Dr. Walter Baker, local chiropractor, attended high school with Smiley in 1927-28.

Even at that time Smiley was a comedian, Dr. Baker says, and could play a number of musical instruments. His father was the pastor of the church that Dr. Baker attended in Illinois.

Dr. Baker said that after he graduated, he lost sight of Smiley, and was surprised to see him in a picture that he and Mrs. Baker saw. Smiley was a very talented boy, Dr. Baker said, so he should be able to give an excellent performance.

Burnett will appear on the stage of the Capitol theatre.

Fake Teacher Disclosed At University

DURHAM, N. H. (UP)—A fake professor has been teaching advanced physics at the University of New Hampshire for more than a year, college officials disclosed today.

They identified the self-styled professor as Marvin Hewitt, 31, of Philadelphia, who had only a high school education. When his pose was uncovered, they said, he left town.

Hewitt was described as a "natural born genius" who educated himself so well that he was able to teach two advanced technical courses without detection.

Edward D. Eddy Jr., assistant to President Robert F. Chandler, said Hewitt told officials poverty had deprived him of the schooling he thought would make him an educator.

Eddy said Hewitt told him he always had a "compulsion" to teach. He said Hewitt's teaching was "above criticism."

"Students who were instructed by him will be given full credit for their work and grades," Eddy said. "Hewitt flunked only one student."

Officials said Hewitt adopted the name of Dr. Kenneth P. Yates, a midwestern educator, and was hired by the university in February, 1953.

He was exposed after a student noted discrepancies while making a routine check of "Dr. Yates' background."

Marilyn Monroe Is Back Home

HOLLYWOOD, Mar. 6. (UP)—Marilyn Monroe, back from her honeymoon, said today Joe DiMaggio wears the trousers in their family and "he hasn't decided where we'll live yet."

Hollywood's favorite blonde arrived in Movietown Friday night for her first appearance since she left a movie set at 20th Century Fox Studio to marry the one-time baseball star two months ago.

But she brought only one suitcase, a folding garment bag, one mink coat, a black scarf and "a bad cold," she picked up entertaining troops in Korea. Whether she's settling down to stay, she didn't know.

"I can't even say I'm glad to be home because home is with my husband and he isn't here," smiled the actress, showing off a wedding band of diamonds.

British Father Becomes Woman

LONDON (UP)—Britain's Health Ministry disclosed today that a former R.A.F. Spitfire pilot and father of two children is now an attractive blonde woman.

Officials said a medical panel had recommended a "correction" in the birth certificate of Robert Cowell, now Roberta Cowell, from male to female.

Unlike the case of Christine Jorgensen, the former Bronx soldier who underwent sexual surgery at Copenhagen, Cowell's sex change was given official government recognition.

British doctors said they believed Cowell's case was unprecedented. They said they knew of no other sex change involving a person who had become a parent.

London newspapers said Robert became Roberta at the age of 35 through a sex change that had natural origins but was hastened by hormone injections and plastic surgery.

Robert Cowell was married on May 29, 1941 and became the father of two girls, now aged 10 and 12. His wife obtained a divorce April 29, 1952 on the ground of desertion, and since has remarried.

Neither Cowell's father, Major Gen. Sir Ernest Cowell, who was honorary surgeon to King George VI and President Eisenhower's medical services chief in North Africa during World War II, nor the former Mrs. Cowell could be reached for comment.

The newspaper reports said Cowell, for many years a racing car driver, began noticing physical and mental changes and consulted specialists.

On the advice of the doctors, Cowell gave up racing and submitted to hormone and plastic therapy. Now, as Roberta Cowell, she has adjusted to the change and is traveling in continental Europe.

At the beginning of World War II Robert Cowell was a captain in the Royal Army Service Corps but transferred to the R.A.F. as flight lieutenant. He was shot down during the war and was a prisoner of the Germans for six months.

Fifty Nursing Scholarships Available

Fifty scholarships in nursing education are available this spring at Murray State College for graduating high school senior girls of West Kentucky.

The scholarships are offered by Jennie Stuart Hospital of Hopkinsville and Owensboro-Daviess County Hospital of Owensboro in affiliation with Murray State College in the nursing education training program.

The college and the hospitals offer a three-year program leading to the state board examination for registered nurses and a four and one-half year program for graduate nurses.

The registered nurses program consists of three consecutive semesters at Murray State and the remainder of the time at one of the hospitals. While at the college the student completes basic work in chemistry and other sciences.

The rest of the time, approximately one and one-half years, is spent gaining actual clinical experience at one of the affiliating hospitals.

The nursing students enjoy all the advantages and privileges of regular students, including residence in the dormitory, low cost meals in the cafeteria and participation in all campus activities.

Each scholarship provides for $50 each semester, or a total of $150, while the students are at Murray State and covers cost of room, meals, books and uniforms while the students are at the affiliating hospitals.

Applications for scholarships should send their applications, together with a transcript of high school credit and a letter of recommendation to Ellis Henson, director of field services at Murray State College.

All applicants will be interviewed at the college April 15.

Cubans Arrested In New York On Arms Charge

NEW YORK (UP)—Police brought charges of illegal possession of weapons today against two Cubans who used a boarded up Manhattan store building to hide an arsenal of anti-tank guns, rifles and hand grenades.

Police Commissioner Francis W. H. Adams took charge of an investigation to trace the destination of the weapons.

The plan was to remove the guns from the country," Adams said. "We assume others were involved but we don't know how many."

Roberto Oscar Acevedo, 32, and Mario Cruz, 34, identified by police as Cuban nationals, were booked early today on two counts each of violation of the Sullivan Act, which regulates possession of weapons. One count charged illegal possession of guns and the other illegal possession of bombs.

In a search for suspects Friday night police confiscated several placards in the basement headquarters of the "Civic Action For Cuba Committee." The placards said: "Wake up America! Batista is a Communist dictator who has converted Cuba into a concentration camp."

Adams questioned seven other men and a woman Friday night and early today in connection with the case and then released them. He said he had found "no link between the arms cache and last week's shooting in the House of Representatives by Puerto Rican nationalists."

Today's Sport Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Mar. 6.—Broken-hearted Paddy DeMarco marched down the road to boxing immortality today with such long-shot heroes as Jimmy Braddock Red Cochrane and Jersey Joe Walcott.
They were guys nobody gave the ghost of a chance the night they crawled through the ropes in search of fistic titles. That they won in their bid for glory is part of boxing legend.

That DeMarco did, too, as he stripped the lightweight championship of the world from dead-panned Jimmy Carter at Madison Square Garden, Friday night. De-Marco comes another of those unbelieveable chapters.

It was at least 4 to 1 against the man they call the Brooklyn Billy goat when he started his bid.
And there were few, if any, takers.

Paddy, alone, believed in himself.
It was a 10-year dream, born on the waterfront streets of Brooklyn when he was a 16-year old street fighter. It was a rough, tough decade which left its mauling marks planted indelibly on the DeMarco features. Up through the four-round bouts, the axes and into the 10-rounders he nurtured that ambition. Yet it seemed the chance would never come.

Three or four years ago his hopes were high. He was on a big winning streak and now at last, he believed that they would have to recognize his claim to a shot at the title. They didn't.

But a couple of months back, Paddy, after a few bad fights was reckoned a "soft touch" by the Carter camp.

That happened to Braddock, who came off the docks as a washed-up stevedore to beat Maxie Baer for the heavyweight crown. It happened to Cochrane, a "scit touch" who surprised Fritz Zivic to win the welterweight crown. And that was the case with old Jersey Joe when, he went against Ezzard Charles a third time for "retirement money" and blasted Ezzard this dreamland.

Nobody believed it could happen to DeMarco—nobody, that is, except Paddy.

"This was my chance," he said calmly after it was over and he sat in a blood-spattered robe with the crown slanted over his curly black hair. "Don't think it's bunk that I knew I was going to win."

"My wife, Betty, hasn't seen me fight since I was boxing fourrounders, longer ago than I like to think about," he insisted. "But I made her come tonight—because this one was for her and our two kids, 3-year old Patricia and 4-month old Bruce."

"Now all of them—as well as everybody else—will know that the old man was a champion and not just a would-be and never-made-it."

The crown may not sit there too long, up above a well-battered nose and a pair of well-mauled

John 11:38-46

THE RAISING OF LAZARUS

To the well-ordered home of Mary, Martha and Lazarus at Bethany, which was so much to his liking, the Master frequently resorted as a visitor. These sisters and brother were ever ready and glad to give their best to Him.
His beautiful love for them is an abiding inspiration to every student of the New Testament. But even those who are in close fellowship with the Lord are not immune to illness. Sooner or later sickness and sorrow come to every family. Such was the case with this family. Lazarus became repeatedly ill. Doubtless he received the very best care that loving hearts and tender hands could provide, but he did not improve.

Because of their great need, the sisters naturally decided to appeal to Christ. At that particular time
He was abiding in Bethabara, which was some twenty miles away and beyond the Jordan.
Meanwhile a messenger was sent to Him with the laconic message,
"Lord, behold, he whom thou lovest is sick." Since He was such an intimate friend of the family, it was, of course, to be expected that He would hasten to Bethany and minister to the needs of Lazarus. But that was not the program which He followed.

When the Saviour received the message, He said, "This sickness is not unto death, but for the glory of God, that the Son of God may be glorified thereby." Instead of departing promptly, He remained there and continued His activities for two days. One reason for this delay was in order that His disciples and the people might be more convinced, than ever before, of His divine power. He wanted to allow death to have its full sway, and then His victory over it would be all the more convincing.

When Christ finally reached Bethany, Lazarus had been dead and buried four days. Martha went out to meet Him. He said,
"Thy brother shall rise again."

His meaning that He would rise on the resurrection day. So, He proceeded to give one of the most astounding revelations concerning Himself. These matchless words have brought comfort and assurance to countless sorrowing hearts.

It is noticeable that Mary's words were identical with Martha's. "Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died."
Instead of finding fault with Him,
"she fell down at His feet" in worship, even as she spoke. She trusted her Lord to do the right thing. His sympathy with them in their sorrow is seen in the fact that "He groaned in the spirit."

Mary's sorrow was deep and poignant, but her grief was mingled with hope. Lazarus had died, but with her Lord present she believed that anything could happen. The Master promptly inquired as to where they had laid Lazarus.
Observing Mary weeping, His great heart of compassion was so touched that He wept also, even though He knew that ere long He would change her sorrow to joy. How marvelously this reveals to us the tender concern and compassion with which Christ now intercedes for us.

Those who saw how Christ sym-pathized with the bereaved immediately began to criticize Him.
They thought that He could have kept Lazarus from dying, and therefore, because He did not, they inferred that His delayed action was wrong. How natural! Whatever the Lord does, if it does not agree with what people think He should do, is immediately the subject of criticism.

Christ, the sorrowing relatives, and some friends moved out to the tomb where Lazarus was buried. Taking charge of the situation, He at once requested the friends to remove the stone from the mouth of the tomb. This seemed to be a request which they wondered if it should be granted.

Martha remonstrated with Him, reminding the Lord that Lazarus had been dead for four days, and that, by this time, the body would be decomposing, to remove the stone, therefore, would be to pollute the very air.

In spite of Martha's protest, the men removed the stone. There by the body of Lazarus in full and open view. Those who stood by and witnessed the scene must have had strange feelings. The Saviour lifted His voice in thanksgiving to God, expressing appreciation for Lazarus' faith from the grave. He restored him to natural life. Still bound in the garments of the tomb, Christ commanded them to "loose him, and let him go." This was something that human hands could do. What people can do for themselves, Christ will not do for them, but what they cannot do for themselves, He will do for them.

This mighty miracle caused a division of the sentiment among the people. Some believed on Christ because of the miracle, while others rushed away to report what had taken place to the enemies of the Lord. These enemies united in the common cause of getting rid of Christ. This incident of the raising of Lazarus was a splendid demonstration of Christ's power to give life to souls that are dead in trespasses and sins.

Because of their great need, the
sisters naturally decided to appeal
to Christ. At that particular time
He was abiding in Bethabara,
which was some twenty miles away and beyond the Jordan.

HOMEMAKERS IMPROVE THEIR OWN KITCHENS

When homemakers in Carlisle county took up the study of convenient kitchens last year, they first analyzed their own rooms to see how they could be improved, said Miss Maxine Garrigan, UK home demonstration agent.

A recent survey shows 62 of the 200 club members in the county rearranged equipment to reduce the number of steps necessary in getting meals; more than 150 kitchens were made more attractive through carefully planned color schemes, and 120 changes were made to save the housewife time and labor. Twenty lap tables on castors were made, so that housewives can pull the tables over their laps as they sit to iron or do other work.
